OFFICIAL LAUNCH ON AUSTRALIA DAY OF A BREAKTHROUGH PRODUCT THAT WILL IMPROVE THE LIVES OF AUSTRALIANS WHO SUFFER FROM ELEVATED BLOOD SUGAR LEVELS

After 7 years of research and test marketing, natural medical product company MediKane is launching NutriKane D a proven health product that will improve the lives of Australians and people around the world who suffer from elevated blood sugar levels, which is a major problem for people living with diabetes.

This all-new product, that is supported with high quality scientific and clinical evidence is a breakthrough in the food as medicine space and will be launched on Australia Day Friday 26 January 2018.

NutriKane D is a safe, natural, concentrated medical food that comes in an easy to use sachet dose. NutriKane D contains all of the types of dietary fibres and a wide range of essential micronutrients that have been shown to not only aid the maintenance of the microbiome but also reduce inflammation and ultimately help control blood sugar levels. Research has shown that up to 90% of all diseases can be traced in some way back to the gut and health of the microbiome.

In other good news, recent changes to investment laws mean that each and every one of us now has the opportunity to invest in this groundbreaking Australian product.
